EL PASO, TEXAS: A man is hospitalized with life threatening injuries after he drives his car off of the roadway and into a ditch. Special Traffic Investigators responded to assist Central Patrol after it was learned that the driver, identified as 24 year old Oscar Soliz, had sustained life threatening injuries. Investigators have learned that Soliz was driving a 2001 Buick eastbound in the 1700 block of East San Antonio when he drove off of the roadway and into a drainage ditch. The Buick then struck a railroad bridge. Soliz was transported by El Paso Fire/Medical to University Medical Center for treatment and was last reported to be in critical condition. At this time, investigators suspect that speed and alcohol may be factors in this crash. No other injuries were reported.
